

F1 SOLUTIONS JOINS ARMS AS GOLD CORPORATE PARTNER

The ARMS Executive is pleased to announce that Australian based, software development company, F1 Solutions has joined forces with our Society to become a Gold Corporate Partner.

F1 Solutions is passionate about the research management profession and sees this collaboration with ARMS as a natural fit and an exciting opportunity.

F1 Solutions has built a number of leading software solutions, including OmniResearch, a research management system that manages every stage of the research life-cycle. OmniResearch is unlike anything else on the market. It is at the leading edge of software systems to manage research governance, ethics review, grant and contract management and much more.

Belonging to the OmniStar product suite, OmniResearch is an out-of-the-box solution with a difference. There are over 500 features you can configure to meet the specific needs of your organisation. Unlike the traditional approach, OmniResearch empowers users to implement processes that suit them best. This combination of adaptability and simplicity is saving organisations money and increasing operational efficiency.

ARMS President, Ms Janice Besch said:

“Our Gold Corporate Partners are important to us and we are thrilled to have another fabulous friend of the research management profession on board. Gold Partners are with us on every step of our journey, helping us deliver across communications, large and small scale events, and advocacy and publications activities. Through its valued support, Australian based software development company, F1 Solutions, extends our reach to deliver new opportunities across the membership while at the same time reminding us of the essential role that research management systems play in our world.”

Gus Boman, Founding Director of F1 Solutions said:

“We are extremely excited to be partnering with ARMS as a Gold Corporate Partner. This partnership demonstrates our commitment to the research management industry, and our genuine endeavour to help the industry grow, transform and thrive in an ever changing environment. Our Research Management System, OmniResearch, is testament to that. We look forward to connecting with many of you over the coming months and at the INORMS conference in September.”
