

VIP-Research

VIP-RESEARCH PTY LTD TEAMS WITH ARMS AS SILVER CORPORATE PARTNER

The ARMS Board is very pleased to announce that Australian based research services company, VIP-Research Pty Ltd has aligned with ARMS to become our first Silver Corporate Partner.

VIP-Research Pty Ltd is very devoted to supporting the research management profession and, under the leadership of its Founding Director, Mr Greg Sadler, views this partnership as mutually beneficial at a critical time of ARMS' growth in the sector.

VIP-Research Pty Ltd provides technology and services for both the collection and management of research impact and engagement as well as a visual analytics and research data analysis platform. It has developed RIEMS \(Research Impact and Engagement Management System\) an Australian made, cloud based, secure information management system which enables intuitive and easy capture of engagement activities, pathways to impact, impact and impact evidence.

Governments across the world are starting to understand the importance of not only collecting research impact and engagement information but also managing it for the societal and fiscal advantages that can be achieved for the research entity involved. The RIEMS system provides a flexible repository to easily collect and manage impact and engagement information but also its staff understand how that information can be utilised to benefit both the reputation/standing as well as the financial position of the research institutions.

ARMS President, Ms Janice Besch said,

"We are delighted to have VIP-Research Pty Ltd join as our first Silver Corporate Partner. We congratulate Greg Sadler, a long term member and strong advocate of ARMS and the research management profession more broadly for coming on board in this capacity. We look forward to a long and productive collaboration with VIP-Research Pty Ltd".

Greg Sadler, Founding Director of VIP-Research Pty Ltd said,

As a foundation member of ARMS, I have had the opportunity to watch the Society grow from humble beginnings to the international advocacy and accreditation organisation it has achieved today. With the challenges on the horizon over the next decade, ARMS will be even more critical to the sector in providing a conduit for professional development of research management and thus higher quality research and innovation in ARMS' member countries. Having had the pleasure of being involved in providing sponsorship to ARMS in various forms since ARMS' inception, I welcomed the opportunity to continue to assist in the crucial research sector.

For further details, please contact:

ARMS: Maria Zollo, email arms_coo@researchmanagement.org.au

VIP Research Pty Ltd: Greg Sadler, email gsadler@vip-research.com.au