RESEARCHMASTER JOINS ARMS AS GOLD CORPORATE PARTNER

The ARMS Board is pleased to announce that ResearchMaster, leading provider of research management solutions in Australia and New Zealand has joined ARMS as Gold Corporate Partner this month.

ResearchMaster's product suite provides comprehensive solutions that enable organisations to collect, store and manage the full gamut of research activity information including, research projects, ethics applications, postgraduate research and HDR reviews.

ARMS President, Dr Campbell Thomson said:

"ResearchMaster has a long history of collaboration with ARMS and we are delighted that this partnership has now been strengthened through a formal agreement. ResearchMaster shares ARMS' mission and goals in developing and promoting international best practice for research management and therefore this is a logical fit for both parties".

ResearchMaster General Manager, Matthew Rowe said:

"As ARMS is continuously driving excellence in the Research Management sector, ResearchMaster leads the way in driving excellence in research management practices through our Enterprise offering and business solutions. ResearchMaster has been a proud sponsor of ARMS since its inception and we are very excited to announce the strengthening of this relationship through our Gold Corporate Partnership. This partnership demonstrates the dedication to the continuous improvement of services and offerings to the Research Community across Australasia".
